

NEWS 2019 Marketplace

ArteSana

Used weaving tools, equipment and supplies. Hand-woven products from recycled textiles by women in Holyoke Ma.

A non-profit social enterprise based in Holyoke, MA, using weaving to expand opportunities for women impacted by systemic inequalities. Sales of their upcycled products are on-line and at local markets.

Katy Moonan katy.artesana@gmail.com

Buchanan Fiber Co

Cotton yarn, silk/linen, cotton sliver, variety of wool breeds in roving all hand dyed. Tahklis and bowls hand-made with eco-friendly resin.

Specialized in high quality fiber for spinning, knitting and weaving. This includes GOTS certified cotton yarn hand dyed in a variety of colors and weights for your next project. They also hand dye family farmed wool roving perfect for felting and spinning.

Sarah Buchanan sarah@buchananfiber.com

Dan Tracy Designs

Hand turned wood tools and accessories for the fiber artist.

Wood artisan who hand turns wood to create functional art pieces and tools for the fiber artist. Dan has had his sculptures in museums and galleries in NY State.

Dan Tracy dantracy17@hotmail.com

Good Karma Farm

Sport weight, worsted weight, sock yarn and handcrafted soaps.

Jim and Amy are the owners of GKF located in Belfast Maine. They raise Alpacas and Sheep and spin their fleeces into yarn. They are noted for classes in sock machine knitting and hand crafted soaps.

Amy Grant amy@goodkarmafarm.com

Lunatic Fringe

Original kits, natural fiber yarns and equipment.

Unique yarns for unique people. We specialize in an expanding palette of brilliantly colored tubular spectrum and sustainably produced American Made (™) naturally colored cotton yarns.

Michele Belson info@luniticFringeyarns.com

Mayan Hands

Beautiful handwoven textiles, scarves, handbags, purses, tableware, felted wool sculptures, and pine needle baskets.

Mayan Hands is a non-profit fair trade organization working with 200 Mayan weavers in Guatemala, finding markets for their NEWS 2019 Marketplace products, offering them workshops to learn new techniques or perfect their traditional ones and scholarships for girls.

Anne Kelly & Brenda Rosenbaum info@mayanhands.org

Monroe Bridge Books

Used and rare books in the field of Textile Arts offered for purchase or perusal.

Bookseller of used and rare books since 1999. Member of SNEAB- New England Antiquarian Bookseller Assoc.

Kathleen Pew monroe.bridge.books@gmail.com

PRO Chemical & Dye

Fabric dyes, fabric paints, books, kits, supplies and classes.

Now in 50th year, Pro Chemical and Dye, located in Fall River, MA, has long been a major supplier of dyes, fabric paints and auxiliaries for fiber artists all over the world.

Nancy Rodrigues promail@prochemical.com

Vävstuga

Beautiful Swedish cotton, linen, and wool yarns; Glimakra and Oxaback looms; weaving equipment and tools; books, excellent classes for beginner to advanced weavers.

The Vavstuga weaving school was inspired by the many weaving schools throughout Sweden. Our goal is to perpetuate this unparalleled education for generations to come.

Bettie Zakon-Anderson

office@vavstuga.com

Vermont Weaving School

Harrisville, Schacht, Leclerc, Glimakra looms and accessories. Yarns and spinning fiber from Harrisville, Brassard, Malabrigo and others. Scarves, shawls, hats, and accessories handwoven by Dena Moses.

Vermont Weaving School was founded in 2008 by Dena Moses who delights in training weavers to make beautiful cloth with joy and ease. Information about weaving classes and retreats at all levels.

Dena Moses

dena@vermontweaver.com

WEBS

Fiber, yarns, equipment for spinners, weavers and other fiber crafters.

America's Yarn Store, a family owned business located in Northampton, MA. Great discounts offered everyday and special deals for NEWS.

Leslie Ann Bestor

labestor@yarn.com

Thank you to WEBS and the Elkins for lending looms and equipment to NEWS for the beginners classes, including transportation, set-up and technical help. WEBS, a long-time supporter of NEWS, has always been a champion in support of our educational mission.